

The idea of cell phones being used during flights is an astonishing one. That the rules could be changed so that everyone would be/could be bombarded with cell phone conversations throughout the plane is uncomprehendable. Let's imagine what each flight would be like...and ask ourselves how pleasant a flight that would be. Please seriously think and reject the idea of cell phone usage on airplanes.